LEARNING MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (LMS)

Learning management systems contain a standard set of tools that are used to facilitate learning and discussion in an online environment, Institute practices education through information and communication technology in following ways,

- Using VM- Edulife Digital learning platform. This LMS platform is essentially designed by VM-Edulife private limited for academic and administrative functioning. The system is accessible to all students/faculty regardless of their location. The login id and password is provided to all the students and faculty members. The faculty and students register themselves through this login id and password. In academic functioning the activities that can be performed are: Uploading Time table, Academic plan, sharing notes, reference books, day to day student attendance, question banks, links to e-sources etc.. In –semester assessment exams, specially quiz, are also conducted online.
- Classrooms are equipped with smart board and have internet connections for access to online content like webinars, videos, power point presentations, animations, diagrams etc.
- As a source of of online learning the e-journal (DEL-NET) and e- books are available in digital library.
- The simulation software “X-Pharmacology” helps in demonstration of the effect of drug on various model like tissues or on whole animals which is an integral and essential part of practical pharmacology teaching.
